

UCLA IN THE RANKINGS

UCLA performs very well in all the national and international rankings of the “best” public and private universities, including the most widely known list published by U.S. News & World Report.

The following is an overview of some of the more significant and well-known national and international rankings. It includes information on UCLA’s standing, as well as commentary that explains the factors used to determine the rankings. The charts provide a snapshot of UCLA’s standing in these rankings vis-à-vis other top-tier research universities, both public and private.

U.S. News & World Report

UCLA is No. 1 among public universities and ranks 20th among all national universities in the USN&WR Best Colleges rankings. Five other University of California campuses rank in the top 15 among public universities: UC Berkeley (2nd), UC Santa Barbara (6th), UC Irvine (9th), UC San Diego (10th) and UC Davis (11th). Despite its popularity, the USN&WR rankings tell only part of the story. The rankings, which have had some controversy, place more emphasis on factors that tend to favor private universities, such as endowment size, rate of alumni giving and student- faculty ratios. Nevertheless, it can be a useful tool that focuses largely on factors related to undergraduate education.

U.S. News & World Report Global Rankings

USN&WR introduced a new global ranking of universities in 2014. The methodology for this ranking is very different from the publication's U.S. ranking system. It gives much more weight to academic research and reputation, as well as graduate and professional school quality. That's why UC San Francisco — which has no undergraduate enrollment — is No. 15 in the global rankings but not included in the U.S. rankings. In the 2020 USN&WR global rankings, UCLA is 14th in the world. Other UC campuses in the top 25 are UC Berkeley (4th) and UC San Diego (19th).

Washington Monthly

Washington Monthly’s university rankings are unique because there’s an emphasis on the societal benefits of major research universities, including access, social commitment and the importance of research as a major driver of the economy and quality of life. In Washington Monthly’s 2020 annual list, UCLA ranked 11th out of 389 national universities.

Half of UCLA’s undergraduates participate in some form of community service, such as tutoring youths, adults and incarcerated juveniles. This community service addresses the health and educational needs of underserved communities; combats poverty and homelessness; and provides legal, social, medical and educational assistance to local residents.

More than a third of UCLA undergraduates receive Federal Pell Grants, which help provide upward mobility. UCLA’s freshmen graduation rate exceeds 90%, among the top in the nation.

Center for Measuring University Performance

In 2018, the most recent ranking, the center placed UCLA among the nation’s top research universities — both public and private. This ranking focuses on nine key measures of university research performance, including competitively awarded research grants and contracts, faculty membership in the national academies, faculty awards, the number of doctorates awarded and other factors. UCLA was ranked in the top 25 among all research universities in eight of these measures, including:

- 8th in the nation in producing doctorates
- 12th in the nation in total research expenditures
- 14th in the nation in faculty awards

For the tenth consecutive year, UCLA ranked second among U.S. public universities and 13th worldwide in ShanghaiRanking Consultancy’s Academic Ranking of World Universities. More than 1,800 institutions are evaluated in this ranking, which is heavily based on faculty publications and citations, as well as the number of alumni and faculty (seven UCLA alumni and seven UCLA faculty) who have won Nobel Prizes.

Doctoral Research Rankings

NATIONAL RESEARCH COUNCIL

The NRC compiles the premier assessment of the nation's doctoral research programs. In its most recent ranking in 2010, the NRC placed many of UCLA's graduate programs in its highest ranks. Of the 59 UCLA programs evaluated by the NRC, 40 placed within the top 10. Only two other universities — UC Berkeley (48) and Harvard University (46) — had more programs that extended to the top 10.

Hospital Rankings

U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT'S "BEST HOSPITALS"

UCLA Health's hospitals in Westwood and Santa Monica have ranked 6th in the USN&WR 2019–20 Best Hospitals Honor Roll. The Honor Roll highlights 20 hospitals — out of more than 4,500 nationwide — that excelled in 16 specialties and nine procedures and conditions.

Other Marks of Excellence

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 2019, the campus received approximately $1.2 billion in awarded research grants and contracts, the eighth time UCLA has exceeded the $1 billion mark.

UCLA is the most popular campus in the nation, with more than 135,000 freshmen and transfer student applicants for fall 2020. More than 6,000 freshmen and 3,600 new transfers enrolled. Among admitted California residents, more than 80% graduated in the top 9% of their graduating class.

A distinguished faculty is the cornerstone of any great university. At UCLA, seven faculty members have been awarded the Nobel Prize. The faculty has had 11 National Medal of Science winners, 15 MacArthur Foundation Fellows, three Pulitzer Prize winners and hundreds of recipients of Guggenheim, Sloan, Fulbright-Hays and other leading academic grants, fellowships and awards.
